

What qualifications do we need for bareboat charter?

The skipper must have at least a RYA Day Skipper or International Certificate of Competence (I.C.C.) or national equivalent. The port police also recognise any official paper from a sailing school or other relevant organisation that has tested and can verify your sailing ability. Also, one crew member must have some previous sailing experience. More details on bareboat sailing can be found here.